

will seem to have full smy in drawers & clouds again! I like to hear of all your little troubles, it makes me seem at home with you - How soon we shall have a chance to talk, I hope!

I enclose a note for butter to Saugus. Don't know you will like to add - One letter of yours is quite lost, I fear - One I should have had the middle of August -

Another note from Paris, going to the dance.
I think she & George both rather cut England.

I have been thinking that if Lizzie Fitch's eyes continue bad, it would be a good thing for her & Anna to come & spend the winter with us & be under treatment - Of course it is too late to have an answer from you - But leave it to your discretion & make the proposition if it seems wise, & necessary to arrange for their winter - They might come the middle of December, or later as they like -

Much love, dear, to you, & to you all. -

Yours faithfully, Jane A. F.

Edinboro - Oct. 7th - 1849

Very dear Sue,

Sept. 14th - Your faithful, & kindly letter, was forwarded to me here by Dr. Gray - The one in which you say we have not answered your questions - I know it often seems brooding about letters, but I always try to look over your letters & answer something you say - There are so many things to write about I cannot often respond about subjects, when I would like - And if you sometimes how much labor it has to write even the "mean" little notes you would not have used the ugly adjective! - I can't write too long at a time, if I write too steadily my eyes after many days, I have restless nights - And I do have to take so much time to rest! I quite begrudge it when I see E. & K. - Those questions of yours you have already got my answers to, as well as could

Charles says he wrote at once

But that letter, I think, was the one I did not get for more than 4 weeks after it was written, for it must be from with Co's laid with his while their 14 days lengthened A 28 - and you know by that time, I have not met with Emie parting at Paris in March, & don't know if I see her until a week before she sails! - Exp. Letters have always been uncertain, as to time <sup>part</sup> or since leaving Cape Land, & we only get them promptly when stationary at New - It is so difficult when in motion, to have them follow you - I had a letter since leaving New, forwarded from my Steward, by which we make agreement that she stays - I am very glad, as it relieves a great care - But still there is a cost to be got -

We are making our little English & Scotch town - Have "Pyramid", very fine of English, Cathedral & Castle & Ruins, "Admiral" Cadwallar's very much when the joy will be us - But I find myself rather used up with the stamping & sight-seeing, & so stay a day here alone, while C. & the folks go to the Ladies - I am sorry they are so hurried a night, but they did not like to leave me alone, or to have me go back to New alone, as I wished - He expects to be back in New by Saturday eve -

I am very sure you will leave the house so nicely as another world - No matter if not exactly in the same way - she must care, why should you? I begin to think "her eye" to let things slide in many ways, as she does, I mean to try & lead my some business when I get home, & let things go, & try not to transfer my worries & anything else - I wish you, job very tranquil with dirt of less & bed-rugs by whetting your eyes & scratching a little - As K. says, she "goes to sleep quietly but she should think of them!" - And, I have got used to not perceiving or mending clothes & tags & crooked & make "whiffs" - How delicious it
